The Most Venomous of Snakes.

A recent arrival at the Zoological Society's Gardens in Regent's Park deserves special notice, apart from the fact that it is the first of its species known to have been brougt to England. It is a snake, called echis carinata, about a foot and a half long and of a dingy gray. Yet, although in appearance neither interesting nor formidable, it is the deadliest of created things. This detestable little worm, which, looking at it, the spectator might make bold to say he could imitate very passably in cork and putty, is, nevertheless, one of the miracles and masterpieces of nature, for it is death itself, and carries in its tiny head the secret of destroying life with the sudden rapidity of lightning and the concentrated agony of all poisons. The echis comes to us from India, where it is tolerably common, being found in nearly every part of the peninsular, and feared wherever found as the incarnation of instant and terrible destruction. Fortunately, however, for man, it is not, like the cobra and the korait, a house-frequenting snake; for its tiny size would give it a terrible advantage over human beings who live crowded together, as the natives of India do, in small darkened rooms, while its aggressive habits would make it infinitly more fatal to life than its dreaded relatives. For this king of the asps, this modern basilisk, is not only venomous beyond conception, but is actively offensive. It does not turn to escape from man, as the cobra will, or flash into concealment like the korait, but, conscious perhaps of its deadliness, deliberately keeps the path against its human assailant, and, putting its own 18 inches of length against his bulk, challenges and provokes the conflict. A stroke with a whip will cut it in two, or a clod of earth disable it; but such is its malignity that it will invite attack by every device at its command, staking its own life on the mere chance of its adversary coming within the little circle of its power. At most, the radius of this circle is 12 inches, but within it, at any point, lies certain death, and, on the bare hope of hand or foot trespassing within its reach, the echis throws its body into a figure-of-eight coil, and, attracting attention by rubbing its loops together, which from the roughness of the scales—hence the epithet carinata—makes a rustling, hissing sound, erects its head in the center and awaits attack. No one having once encountered this terrible worm can ever forget its trubulent aspect when thus aroused, its eagerly aggressive air, its restless coils, which in constant motion one over the other, and rustling ominously all the while, stealthily but surely bring it nearer and nearer to the object of its fury; the eye, malignant even beyond those of other vipers, and then the inconceivable rapidity of its stroke. For the echis does not wait to strike until it is within striking distance, but vents its malice in repeatedly darting at nothing, hoping, perhaps, to aggravate its antagonist into closer quarters, or, more probably, as a mere expression of its own uncontrollable viciousness.—London Telegraph.

A STRANGE CASE.—A farm hand in Switzland was arrested on a charge of knowing something about the burning of his master's house. It was proved that he did nothing to put out the fire, but packed up his clothes and made off with himself. The man confesed that he was in love with his master's daughter, and the winter previous when he discovered the chimney on fire and gave the alarm, his master abused him and said he had cheated him out of 6,000 francs. He understood from this that his master wanted his house burned down, and the way to win his favor was not to put it out when he found it ablaze. The owner of the house was thereupon arrested for the crime of arson.

The origin of saying, "Taking a man down a peg," may be traced to the pegging, or making drinking cups, which was introduced by St. Dunstan to check the intemperate habits of the times, by preventing one man from taking a larger draught than his companions. But the device proved the means of increasing the evil it was intended to remedy; for the most abstemious were required to drink precisely to a peg or pin, whether they could soberly take such a quantity or not. To the use of such cups may also be traced the origin of the saying, "He's a peg too low."

Among the other curiosities on exhibition at the American department of the Paris Exposition was a spring chicken from an American boarding house. The chicken was taken to the guillotine one morning, but when the heavy knife fell on its neck, the fowl gave a frightened squawk, after a few tremendous pulls, jerked its head away from under the knife and makes its way back to its coop in the exposition. The knife was sent to the foundry for repairs.

A hook and ladder company in Philadelphia has a horse named Peter. He answers by signs all questions put to him, tells his age by pawing on the ground, and does many clever tricks. He also chews tobacco and drinks beer.

When a key was called for, and the gentleman pulled out a corkscrew, some one remarked that that was the key that unlocked his gait.

Mechanics as Farmers.

A large proportion of farming operations are purely mechanical. Mechanical skill is necessary to construct a good stack of grain, or to properly build a load of hay. A lack of mechanical skill causes shocks of corn to blow over. Mechanical skill is necessary to lay out land in plowing, and to so gauge the furrows that the land will come out even. The appearance of many cultivated fields shows an absence of mechanical skill on the part of the persons who manage them. The sides are not even; at the end where the team turns in plowing there is often a variation of a rod or more from a true line; the furrows are crooked in all parts of the field; the rows of corn or potatoes are not straight, and as a consequence many of the hills are injured by being worked with a cultivator. Mechanics who turn farmers find the knowledge they have acquired in the practice of other arts of great value to them. They have become precise from long practice.—They put a proper estimate on the value of straight lines in plowing and planting.—They have a proper regard for the appearance of things. A workshop is a most valuable auxiliary to the farm and garden.—Its tendency is to make one carerul and precise in the use of tools of every description. It is a good school-room for the boys. It helps develop mechanical ingenuity, which is as valuable to a farmer as a machinist. The more boys handle shop tools, more dexterous they will be with farming tools. With a good workshop, profitable employment may be found during a large proportion of Winter, and during rainy days at other seasons of the year. To keep a farm, with its numerous buildings, fences, and tools, in repair, requires mechanical skill, which farmers may acquire, if they will set themselves and their sons about it.—Chicago Times.

A PRETTY WIDOW.—What a loss the world would experience were pretty widows to die out of the land! The young mourner is a legitimate object of pity; well, we all know Pity's kinsman! She becomes the pet of society, a pleasant companion, a charming sweetheart, and a dangerous rival; and we pity the girl who has to battle against her. We have seen young widows of but ordinary attractions carry off the palm from wealth, intellect and beauty, combined, and wonder themselves at their own success. Even after the first season of their sorrow is over, and they have ceased to excite sympathy any more, their ripeness and tact make man an easy and willing victim to their subtle charms. Their past experience, their tutored hearts, and the aching void of their late loneliness, give to their manner that ease, grace and naturalness that is woman's chief charm, and makes the young widow the envy of the women and the admiration of the men. And she knows her power well, and never fails to use it.

The occurrence of accidents from revolving shafts may be avoided, it is alleged, by simply covering the shaft with a loose sleeve along its entire length. This may be made of sheet tin or zinc, and be movable if desired; it should also be covered within and at the ends with leather to prevent noise. Arranged in this manner, the friction between it and the revolving shaft is sufficient to cause the sleeve to revolve with the latter: but in the event of any decided resistance being brought to bear on it, as in the case of an entanglement of an operative's garment, the sleeve would be brought to rest and permit of extraction without accident. The same kind of simple protection may be resorted to, likewise, in the case of cog wheels or pulleys.

AUTUMN LEAVES.—England has few colored autumn-leaved trees. American species translated to that country still carry with them their colored characteristics.—But this season they seem to have outdone themselves, and the sweet gum is the center of praise for its beauty by all the London newspapers. On the other hand, in our own country, the autumn foliage was particularly dull last year. The landscape, as a general thing, was more as it generally is in Europe. Those who consider these things believe there is much yet to learn about the cause of leaf coloration.

DRILLING GLASS.—Stick a piece of stiff clay or putty on the part where you wish to make the hole. Make a hole in the putty the size you want the hole in the glass, reaching to the glass, of course. Into this hole pour a little molten lead, when, unless it is very thick glass, the piece will immediately drop out.—Design and Work.

Rawhide is said to make good journal boxes for machinery. A practical machinist says: "I have run a piece of machinery in rawhide boxes for 14 years without oil; it is good yet, and runs at 4,500 revolutions per minute. I put it in while soft and let it remain until dry."

A new Beecherism: "If a man has a big bucket and only a pint of water, he won't spill it: but if the bucket is even full, can he help slopping over? I honor the man who slops over. He is a man of measures and magnitudes."

When some politicians are weighed they found wanting every office in which there is a vacancy.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

FOR PRESIDENT.

JAMES A. GARFIELD,

Of Ohio.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

CHESTER A. ARTHUR,

Of New York.

Election, Tuesday, November 2, 1880.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C. July 16th, 1880.

General Arthur's letter of acceptance is published here this morning, of course it does not excite the comment and general interest that General Garfield's did. It is nevertheless, a well written paper, and the views expressed in it are in full accordance with Republican belief. The only marked difference in opinion, between it and General Garfield's letter is the treatment of the Civil Service reform question. General Arthur's believes the acceptance of public officers does not in any way impair the right of a citizen to think, speak and act in political matters according to his own will, provided that he honorably, faithfully and fully discharges all the duties of his office. Upon other questions of National welfare he shows himself to be a thorough and consistent Republican, well deserving the trust imposed upon him.

In Washington, increased confidence is felt in the success of the Republican party and, as I have often said, Washington is a mirror—as is were—in which is reflected national opinion and belief. I find this this confidence in all portions of the country. Hopeful reports come from all sections, and where we cannot hope, to carry some Democratic states for Garfield, many Congressional districts in them will be now. This is particularly gratifying, as a Republican House next Congress is the thing next to winning the Presidency that Republicans most desire.

Right here I wish to say in reference to the alleged abandonment of the Republican party in the South, charged by Democrats, that it is not a fact.

The Republican organization is to be made effective and thorough in every Southern State. Speakers from the North will be sent into that section, and every effort will be made to secure full and fair elections; an honest count, and of course, if these are secured Republican victory will necessarily follow. As it is, we have fair hopes carrying Virginia, Florida and North Carolina, though these States are by no means considered as sure.

Chairman Jewell, has just returned from an extended Western trip. He reports the enthusiasm and confidence every where remarkable. In Indiana, the fatal nomination of Landers for Governor, cripples the Democratic party badly in the October election and the personal unpopularity of English, among the working classes, make the State almost sure Republican in November. In New York and Pennsylvania, the situation is, of course gratifying, and in Connecticut, Chairman Jewell's own State, the outlook is brighter than at any time for years.

Another fact, and one which may well make Republicans feel confident is, that the nominations of Garfield and Arthur, are steadily growing in favor with the people, while the faint enthusiasm at first aroused over Hancock is fast dying out.

This is a fact, and any impartial observer of the two parties cannot fail to notice it. The Democrats of course deny it, publicly, but in private they acknowledge it and are entering even now the dismal period of doubt that usually succeeds an unwonted burst of Democratic enthusiasm before election.

On Monday afternoon a shocking tragedy occurred in Oakland. Edward Schroeder Exchange Teller in the San Francisco and London Bank, walked into the office of Dr. Alfred Lefevre, a well known dentist, and shot him to death, he having ruined Schroeder's domestic happiness, Mrs. Schroeder having confessed to his intimacy with her. Mrs. Schroeder is the daughter of Rev. Horatio Stebbins, of San Francisco.

Edison has abandoned his electric light project, and is now at work on a noiseless, smokeless, and dustless electric locomotive. If the Eastern news gatherer will only let him alone till he completes his invention, what a blessing it will be.

General Hancock has been assigned to the command of the Department of the South during the absence of General Augur. Perhaps his friends think this augurs well for him to carry a solid South.

It is nip and tuck between Ohio and Illinois as to which is the largest State in population, both having in the neighborhood of 3,100,000 inhabitants. It will take the official figures to settle the question.

It has been the general supposition that the population of the Southern States had decreased, but the census shows to the contrary, that there has been an increase of some 27 per cent.

It is said that the population of Cornucopia, Nevada, is less than twenty-five.

RAILROADING.

It has been supposed that the projected Stockton and Bodie Railroad had fallen through, such having been the report from Stockton, but it seems that such is not the case; that the matter is under serious consideration and statistics are now being gathered as to the amount of freighting likely to be done over the routes proposed for the road to take. This week a party of gentlemen from Stockton have been visiting our city, and obtained much valuable information in regard to the permanency of our mines, the future prosperity of the district, the amount of wood consumed at our numerous hoisting works and mills, as well as for the domestic uses of our large population, the amount of merchandise daily coming in, and other statistics incidental to railroading. These gentlemen returned to Stockton this morning and will report to the promoters of the enterprise at an early day, when a preliminary survey of a route will be commenced. This road will connect at Antelope Valley with the Oregon and Nevada Narrow-Gauge Railroad, to be built from Reno South. The O. & N. R. R. will pass through Bridgeport, run up Dog Creek, and strike Mono Lake. From Bridgeport a branch road will be built to Bodie, double-header trains being run between these places. The Directors contemplate having the road to this place in running order within twelve months. The Stockton and Bodie Railroad will open up a valuable mineral, timbered and agricultural country, whether the Sonora or Big trees route is selected. It will pass through a densely timbered country and give employment to hundreds of men in getting out lumber and wood for the Stockton and Bodie markets, for Stockton will be a good market for lumber, and wood, as well as Bodie. With this road running into our town our mines would not be compelled to shut down for the want of wood, and exorbitant prices could not be wrested from mining companies and the residents of this place for so necessary an article of domestic use. We cannot but believe that a narrow-gauge railroad from Stockton to Bodie would be a profitable enterprise and be of great benefit to Stockton, which has been so long under the ban of the Central Pacific Railroad Company. If the moneyed men of Stockton will now wake up and give this matter the attention it deserves that city can be placed in a position to rival Sacramento.

Three grasshoppers were seen at the head of the Geiger Grade the other day. The damage to Storey county crops is great, says the Reno Gazette.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE STOCKTON AND BODIE RAILROAD.—On Thursday we had the pleasure of a call from George C. Craig, of Stockton, who arrived in Bodie on Wednesday in company with J. S. Davis, E. F. Tucker, and, H. L. Dawley, brother of Superintendent Dawley, of the Standard Mill, all of Stockton. These gentlemen have visited Bodie for the purpose of getting facts and figures with which to base a report on the feasability of building a narrow gauge railroad from the water front at Stockton to Bodie. They came over the Sonora road to view that route, and propose returning by way of the Big Trees road to take a look at that part of the country. Mr. Tucker is an engineer, and we understand is well pleased with the lay of the land over the route they came. Mr. Craig has been very industrious during his visit here, getting statistics in regard to the freighting business of this section, and of the wood and lumber traffic, and seems to be well pleased with the prospects of this town as a terminus for a railroad from his city.

ON A TOUR.—This week we had the pleasure of a visit from W. M. Bunker, of the San Francisco Stock Report, who is now making his yearly tour of our mines. Mr. Bunker is well pleased with the developments that have been made in the Bodie mines since his last visit, and bespeaks for our town a glorious future, and those who now leave us and seek for pastures new, will be replaced by men of means and energy who will not be scared by a touch of dull times. Mr. Bunker will give our people the result of his observations through the columns of his live morning journal.

THIEF CAUGHT.—On Sunday last Sheriff Taylor succeeded in capturing Antonia Martinaz, one of the thieves that have been playing their vocation in this place. Martinaz robbed the oil warehouse of Page, Wheaton & Co., and sold a case of the oil to a Spanish woman, who notified the Sheriff. He was taken before Justice Peterson and plead guilty to larceny and was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 or imprisonment for six months. He took the latter.

LAST SUNDAY'S PICNIC.—A picnic came off at the Richer grove on Sunday last, according to public notice duly given in the papers. The attendance was quite large, but in the midst of the enjoyment a bevy of fast women entered upon the scene, and caused the withdrawal of the respectable class. Later on a free and easy fight was started and indulged in by a number of our well known young men, who ought to have been at Sunday School.

THE FIRE BELL.—Hereafter when a fire occurs in Bodie the Standard whistle will blow five times, sharp, for a general alarm, to be repeated twice. For a fire in District No. 1, which takes in all the country north of Standard Avenue, one long whistle. District No. 2, south of the same Avenue, two long whistles. No. 3, east of the Standard Mill, three long whistles. This is an arrangement made by the Board of Delegates last evening.

GOING EAST.—Hon. J. E. Goodall, Register of the Bodie Land Office, has been granted leave of absence for thirty days, and will leave in a day or two for Chicago, to attend the assembly of the Knights Templar of the United States. He will go to San Francisco and go on with the great body of the Knights from this coast.

MUCH JOY.—Under the appropriate heading in another column will be found the announcement of the marriage of several of Bodies young folks. We wish our young friends much happiness in the new life they have entered upon, and advise others to go and do likewise.

HEAVY RAIN.—On Thursday afternoon Bodie was favored with a refreshing shower. It was the heaviest rain and hail storm we have seen in many a day, and effectively laid the dust in town, but it did not extend over the ridge toward the county seat.

THE WEATHER.—Sunday and Monday were extremely warm days, but on Tuesday a sudden change occurred and during that night ice an inch thick formed on Booker flat. Since then the weather has been quite temperate.

NICE FRUIT.—A Sunday dinner won't be complete without some of Gibson's fresh fruit, which will be on sale to-morror (Sunday) morning at Gibson's Union Fruit Market, above the Postoffice.

BENEFIT CONCERT.—The concert given Thursday evening in compliment to Miss Nellie Parkinson, of Carson, but now visiting Bodie, was well attended and passed off very satisfactorally.

RISDON IRON WORKS.—We call attention to the advertisement of the Risdon Iron Works. This is an old established foundry, and its works can be found in a large number of our mills and hoisting-works.

NOTARY.—Governor Perkins has appointed J. A. Creaser, a Notary Public, to reside at Benton, Mono county.

COUNTY CLERK.—In another column will be found the announcement of Ben. M. Miller, incumbent, for County Clerk.

DISCHARGED.—Hurley has been discharged, and will be held as a witness against Hammond and Post.

CLUB MEETING.—The Hancock and English Club held a meeting in Miners' Union Hall last evening. There was a good attendance, and considerable speecifying indulged in by Messrs. Reddy, Huffaker, Fisher and Miner. As this meeting allowed Mr. Miner to make his maiden Democratic speech, his friends regret that he could not have found something else to talk about but that old hacknayed subject the "great fraud," "the 7x8," or the "Third Term," the latter subject giving the young man an opportunity to effectually squelch Grant, who, he thinks, would have been loved, and looked upon as a hero, by all his countrymen had he but left the "third term" alone. After Miner's speech some signed the roll and the meeting adjourned.

MORE SHOOTING.—About midnight last night an unpleasantness occurred in the lower dance house between David Averly and Santiago Galindo, in which the latter was shot by Averly, who first knocked him down and then shot him. Dr. Rogers was called in and found that he was not dangerously hurt. Averly was arrested and taken to Kirgan's castle.

No Go.—It is said that the Workingmen's Party of Mono will run a separate county ticket and not go in with the Democracy. Why should they not? They are a stronger party than the Democratic, and if they put up good men would stand a good show to elect some of their ticket.

YEAST POWDERS.—In another column will be found the advertisement of Donnolly's Yeast Powders. These are of the best in market, and have great sale among housewives who have used them. Ask your grocer for them.

DAILY MAIL.—The petition for a daily mail between here and Bridgeport went on to Washington on Sunday last. It was about ten feet long.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—The Board will meet in regular session on next Monday—August 2d.

Hon. W. F. White, the Workingmen's Candidate for Governor last year is in town.

COUNTY SEAT ITEMS.

(From the Bridgeport Union).

FRUIT TRADE.—Until the fruit peddlers coming in from Sonora learn a lesson, our people should leave them severely alone. Striking our town, their ideas are up, and exorbitant prices are demanded, and they don't care a d— as they are "going to Bodie." Unfortunately for them, Bodie is the "jumping off place," and they run the length of their rope. Last week one of the fellows came along with a four horse mud wagon. He passed on to the city and was offered eight cents per pound for apples, the party to take all—he wanted ten cents here. On Sunday last he was hard at work hawking them through the street at seven cents, and no buyers. On Monday last, having been five days in Bodie, he passed through our town, en route for Sonora, probably a wiser man. Tell them to go on, and, if they don't sell in Bodie, may be when they come back you will probably buy of them. That will bring them to sell hereat fair rates.

ASSESSMENT ROLL.—On Monday next Assessor Welch will deliver to the Auditor the Assessment roll of 1880-81. It will be far in excess of that of last year, which was as follows:

Personal	$531,239.
Real estate, other than town lots	505,398.
Improvements	291,215.
Town lots	66,352.
Improvements	264,210.
Moneys	31,805.
Total,	$1,690,219.

Tax, $49,016 91.

The roll this year ought to exhibit $4,000,000,000; but call it $3,000,000, and, at the rate last year, the tax will amount to $98,000—$46,000 more than the floating and bonded debt, and yet the Grand Jury recommend a heavier taxation this year than last. The jury is a little "off."

RAILROAD.—The Surveying corps of the Oregon and Nevada Railroad—narrow gauge—were here on Wednesday, and on Thursday left towards Bodie. This is a preliminary survey, but will be used as an estimate of probable cost of the work. It is contemplated to cross Antelope Valley and come by the way of Wellington's; thence to Mono Lake, with a branch from Bridgeport to Bodie. On Wednesday evening our citizens were addressed by Mr McTanahan, one of its Directors. It having been reported that H. M. Yerrington had stated that the enterprise was a blackmailing affair, and that it had offered to sell out to him for $50,000, Mr. McTanahan pronounced it a "lie."

JURY DUTY.—It is well-known that exempt and active firemen and members of military companies are exempt from jury duty. Under such circumstances, some discretion should be given to the Sheriff, whereby hardship and expense, both to individuals and county might be avoided. Evidence of this was had this week. Firemen from Bodie were obliged to come to Court at great expense of time and money, simply to state that they were members of fire department. In case of another drawing we would suggest that the clerk reject all names recorded as firemen.

HURLEY'S TRIAL.—On Tuesday the trial of Hurley for the murder of Dalzelle commenced in the Superior Court, Hon. M. P Wiggin, Judge, presiding. The jury was as follows: H. A. Gould, L. E. Wederitz, J. R. Simons, A. Waltze, C. H. Kilgore, C. Telge, J. M. Campbell, Edward Graham, Jules Daroche, Frank B. Doten, James E. Stewart, Thomas Kirkwood, Testimony closed on Wednesday and the case was submitted to the jury on Thursday afternoon. In the evening the jury was discharged, having failed to agree.

COUNTY CENTRAL COMMITTEE.—On Thursday last the Republican Central Committee met, and appointed Paul Bennett Delegate to State Convention, to meet at Sacramento August 11th, to nominate Presidential Electors. R. J. VanVorhees, B. M. Reardon, J. W. Stewart and Doctor Goodnow, Alternates, in case Mono should be allowed five delegates.

LIME.—A. J. Severe has men engaged in opening up a lime quarry, one and a half mile from town. The rock they are blasting will be used for the building of a furnace. A test showed that the lime was of a superior quality.

SHORT CAMPAIGN.—The Republican nominees for county offices should not be subjected to the expense incident to a long campaign. The latter part of September or early in October would be a good time to hold the Convention.

MONO DELEGATE.—The Republican State Central Committee refuses to allow Mono more than one delegate of course, under the Hayes' apportionment. it could not do otherwise.

THE FORRESTER PUMP.—The Board of Supervisors will do well to provide one of these pumps for the new Court House. They are non-freezing, cannot get out of order, and are easily worked.

STOCKTON & BODIE R. R.—It is expected that this road will run to the Big Trees and from thence to Antelope Valley, in this county, there to connect with the Oregon and Nevada railroad

BRICK MAKING.—A. J. Severe has a party making brick. In this connection we learn some brick buildings are to be erected here.

SHERIFF.—In another column Under Sheriff John M. Massey announces himself as a candidate for Sheriff, subject to the nomination of the Democratic Convention.

WELL REPRESENTED.—Of the trial jury, which met here on Monday last, forty were from Bodie, and they were among the best men there.

COURT HOUSE.—On Wednesday afternoon the raising of the frame of the Court House commenced, and first story will be finished to-day.

CHOP STAND.—H. D. Sommer's Chop Stand at Loose's building, has the best of the season at all hours. We commend it to all who like good living.

MORTGAGES.—Three mortgages have been recorded this month.

John Crowell, formerly of Camptonville, Cal., and who left the county about fifteen years ago very mysteriously, returned to his former place of residence on Saturday week. Sixteen years ago he left home for San Francisco with the intention of returning within a week or so. Every body supposed he was dead until about a week ago. He says he was shanghied on board a vessel and carried off. During the absence his wife died, and on his return the people of Camptonville were strangers to him. Mr. Crowell, many years ago, represented Yuba county in the State Legislature.

On Monday morning George W. Smith, ex-Sheriff of Nevada county, met T. M. Sigourney an old resident of Nevada city, in front of the National Hotel in that place and shot him to death. Sigourney had commenced suit against Smith and was going to eject him from his home. Smith claims unfair treatment on the part of Sigourney, who had already taken everything he had except a little cabin he was then living in, and which he had been ordered to vacate.

An ex-soldier who was making out his papers at Los Angeles to draw his quarterly pension, brought in as the necessary witness before the County Clerk an ex soldier of the Confederacy taken prisoner by the pensioner in one of the battles of the rebellion. The witness was plainly competent to prove the services of the pensioner.

The population of forty counties in California foots up 755,358, against 489,675 in 1870, showing a gain of 237,683, or over fifty-four per cent., of increase holds out in the remaining counties, the population of California will number 862,780, or a gain of 302,533 since 1870.

THE "WORST YET!"—Now come the Democrats and say that while Hancock was pulling on the rope around Mrs. Surrat's neck, Garfield was pulling at her heels. What next?

If the Democratic press had appealed half as fervently to the Democrats in 1863 to follow Hancock as they do now there never would have been any necessity for the draft.

THE CHRONICLE.

BODIE, JULY 31, 1880.

WHITTIER ON GARFIELD.

John G. Whittier, in a letter regretting his inability to attend the formation of a Republican club at Amesbury, says: "I must not, however, let the occasion pass without expressing my hearty sympathy with the movement, and my desire to co-operate with you in your labors, in support of a candidate of pure character, wise statesmanship and lifelong fidelity to the Republican party, the Union of the States and the security of the rights of person, property and franchise. For myself I would gladly find an excuse for retiring from active participation in the coming election and would welcome with inexpressible relief any decided manifestations of a more generous and enlightened policy on the part of Democrats toward the people of color. But I look in vain for any good evidence of a change which would justify relaxation of zeal and vigilance on our part. I have no words of personal disparagement for the Democratic nominee, and I do full justice to the sincerity and patriotism of many of his supporters; but, as a rule, the party remains as it was at the close of the war. The time has not come when it will be safe to intrust the financial interests of the country and the welfare of the emancipated class to a party whose President can only be elected by compromise with the Greenback heresy, and the virtual suppression by fraud and violence of the vote of the colored citizens of the Southern States."

A NEW STYLE OF STEAM ENGINE.—Messrs. Rankin, Brayton & Co. of the Pacific Iron Works, have just completed a 200 H. P. Engine to run the 20-stamp mill of the Boston & Arizona Co., now being erected at Contention City, Arizona. This engine is the Wheelock patent cut-off and is attracting great attention among our mechanical men who regard it as the finest piece of steam machinery that has ever been seen on the Coast. The valve arrangement is much more sensitive than the Corliss, which has long been regarded as the leading engine of this class. It is also much heavier and more substantial in construction—calculated to stand the heavy strain put upon engines used for mill purposes. As regards economy, no such results have ever been obtained from any other engine—a most important feature on this Coast where fuel is generally expensive. This is the engine which took the grand prize at the Paris Exposition in competition with over 300 engines from the best builders in all parts of the world. The problem of a simple and durible automatic cut-off engine seems to have been solved by this inventor. This engine will be on exhibition for a few days at the above works, when parties interested can examine it.—S. F. Stock Report.
